

RemoteApply™ Point of Sale System

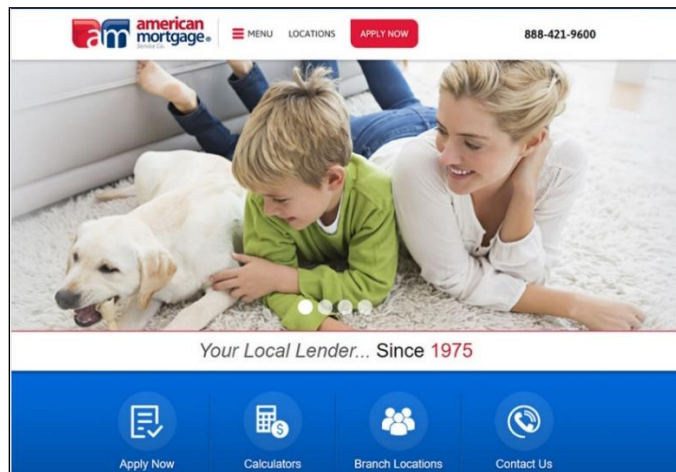

Introduction

RemoteApply is RemoteLender’s integrated point-of-sale (POS) system harnessing the technology developed by Lending Manager, the premier provider of advanced integration technology to the lending industry.

RemoteApply is a complete POS that offer lenders customized, branded websites for corporate, branches and loan officers; direct import of loan applications into RemoteLender; a client portal for loan status, document upload and messaging center; a lender intranet for centralized discussions, files and directories; a marketing portal that generates branded marketing materials; mortgage calculators; lead capturing tools; online payment acceptance capabilities; and comprehensive reporting sets.

Websites

RemoteApply provides lenders with the ability to create and brand their home or company website, including the branches. Colors and logos can be added to unify the appearance in concert with marketing strategy. Broker websites can not only can be branded, but personalized as well, providing both broker and user with the tools they need to expedite the lending process. Take a short application or an entire 1003 via the web.

RemoteApply also allows lenders to create an intranet for communicating with loan officers and employees. They can share files as well and keep contact information in an easy-to-find and update location.

Data Flows Directly into RemoteLender

Data captured via RemoteApply is automatically incorporated into the loan record within RemoteLender. No rekeying or manual process is necessary. This helps speed the loan along while reducing the opportunity for errors.

RemoteApply's Client Portal allows borrowers the ability to get updates in real time via the web or by phone. They can also upload key documents using the portal and they can receive pertinent messages from the lender.
